

Career Assessment: Skills to Complete Discovery Activities

—Innovations in Employment Supports—

To fully participate in this course, please have completed all of Series 1 prior to registering.
Get curious about the person you are supporting and develop a Discovery mindset for completing the career assessment and planning activities of the Discovery Report.

1

About Today

- Understand the different components of Discovery – file review, interviews, observations, assessments, career research.
- Dig deeper to uncover powerful vocational insights about the person.
- Learn how to thread together perspectives, patterns, and realities of a person to identify interest, skills, abilities, preferences, and that person's unique brand of genius.

17

The Interview:

1	2	3	4
Identifying the best people to talk to in the person's life	Introducing yourself to interviewees in a clear and respectful manner	Create questions that will lead to meaningful information	Resolving discrepancies and contradictions

Eleversity

18

Skills for Interviewing:

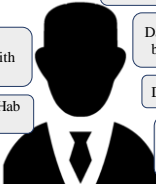

Open-ended questions	Begin with: What, Why, How
Tell me about...	Tell me about a time when Dave was proud of an accomplishment.
What does it look like when...	What does it look like when Dave struggles with learning a new task?
Describe the last time....	Describe the last time Dave solved a problem independently.
Provide examples of answers when the interviewee struggles to recall information.

Dave has been attending Day Hab Without Walls for 2 years

Dave goes to the gym several times a week

Dave volunteers at a soup kitchen with CBPV 3x/wk. and assists the head chef

Dave and his brother often join a bike meet up in his community

Dave goes to counseling weekly

Dave enjoys going to Starbucks, and the grocery store weekly

Eleversity

20

Breakout

Consider the people in Dave's life and his activities, who do you think would be good to speak with?

Create 3 probing questions you would ask that would lead to deeper conversations.

Eleversity

Cross-reference information found in file review for consistency – keep digging!

Set up environment to be comfortable, not to feel like an interrogation – no power seat

Don't interpret, infer or assume answers/ meaning

22
